Broken-Hearted, College Prexy Suicides

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Find was written to a tragedy of modern college life today when the body of Dr. Simon B. Baker, 35, missing former president of Washington and Jefferson college, was found in a field near here. A bullet had pierced his right temple. A gun lay by his side.

The body of the famous educator, who resigned his post after a five day student strike resulting from his alleged "autocratic" policies, was found by a pipe line worker near here. There was no explanation of Dr. Baker's presence near Washington, scene of his early triumph. He had not been seen since leaving his Pittsburgh home yesterday.

Dr. Baker had been "broken hearted" over the student strike, his friends said.

The strike was an aftermath of the educator's threat, never fulfilled of expelling two football players who were involved in a hotel brawl.

G. O. P. LEADER TAKES STAND

Maschke to Deny He Knew of Shortage When He Signed Bernstein Check.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 11.—Maurice Maschke, Cuyahoga co. Republican leader, today took the witness stand at the trial of the suit charging and five co-defendants with the embezzlement of $177,000 from the county treasury to register an emphatic denial that he was implicated in the purported embezzlement.

On the witness stand, however, Maschke related the details of the negotiations for the $120,000 loan made to Alex. Bernstein, former deputy treasurer in 1928, which the defense contends was placed in the county treasury to make good defaulted tax checks of Charles Rosenblatt, deceased Cleveland attorney.

The Republican chieftain denied he had any knowledge there was a shortage in the treasury at the time he endorsed the loan for Bernstein, and rebuked the state's charges that the $177,000 was paid into the treasury to "cover up" an alleged embezzlement.

Melvin Morrison, 26, Killer of George Turner, Free on Oct. 20.

HAS GOOD RECORD

Parole Recommended by Pen's Warden

Melvin T. R. Morrison, 26, colored, an inmate in Ohio penitentiary for the past five years for the murder of George Turner, also colored, will return to Circleville Thursday, Oct. 20 after receiving a parole from the Ohio board of paroles and pardons.

Morrison has been represented by Max C. Seyfert Jr., from the time of his indictment until now. Seyfert made a plea for Morrison's parole in June and has received notice from D. J. Bonzo, record clerk of the penitentiary that Morrison will go free.

The man's parole was recommended by Warden P. E. Thomas, by the prison's chaplain, by Judge E. A. Brown who was prosecuting attorney at the time of Morrison's arrest, by Emmitt L. Crist, present prosecuting attorney, and by several leaders of the church to which Morrison belonged before his trouble.

Upon his return to this city Morrison will receive the job he had before he left here under William Boat on the Norfolk & Western section gang. It was necessary for Mr. Boat to write to the parole board to inform that group that Morrison would have a job if permitted to leave the penitentiary.

Since being placed in the penal institution Morrison's wife, sister, brother, and mother have died and the widow of the man he killed has been a visitor here four times attending the funerals of each of his relatives.

Not a bad mark was found against his record in the five years he has been an inmate of the penitentiary, which he entered at the age of 21 years.

PLEADED GUILTY

Morrison was arrested on Feb. 17, 1927 and indicted on March 26, 1927 for first degree murder. He entered a plea of guilty to manslaughter and was sentenced by Judge Clarence Curtin to 20 years imprisonment at hard labor.

FIGHT OVER 'SHINE' CLAIMS MAN'S LIFE

CUERNADACA, Mexico, Oct. 11.—A quarrel over payment for a shoeshine today resulted in the fatal wounding of Agapito Albarra, a member of the Mexican congress and Francisco Alvarez, secretary general of the state department.

The fight took place in the fashionable American owned hotel Smaistika. American and other foreign guests narrowly escaped injury when the impromptu duelists pulled pistols from their pockets and started firing.

THEFT REPORTED

Peck Walston of near Williamsport reported to police Monday night that someone broke into his repair and blacksmith shop and stole two sets of thread cutters, a pipe cutter, brace and bits and other tools.

Betrayed Trust

Held at Chicago on a charge of embezzlement, Charles E. Glaser, a lawyer who for years operated a mortgage loan and real estate investment house, is said to have confessed converting half a million dollars entrusted to him to his own use. Friends, relatives and business associates who trusted him are the victims.

LEGION HEAD BADLY HURT

Ralph Cole, Scheduled To Appear Here Next Weekend, Partly Paralyzed.

WARREN, Oct. 11.—Injured when the automobile in which he was riding overturned into a ditch, Colonel Ralph D. Cole of Findlay, commander of the Ohio American Legion, was taken to city hospital here today for treatment of a back injury that has caused a temporary paralysis of his leg.

Following an examination physicians at the hospital said that a vertebrae in Cole's back had been severely bruised and that he had sustained a deep cut on one leg.

Physicians said they believed the paralysis only temporary and declared Cole's condition to be "not serious."

Colonel Cole was driving toward Cleveland with W. H. Sewell of Cleveland, after attending an American Legion meeting at Warren when the accident occurred.

Sewell, who was driving, said they had been riding in the rain and that the car slipped off the road while rounding a curve. The machine overturned twice before it halted at the bottom of the ditch, he said. Cole was removed to the hospital by passing motorists.

MOVE MADE TO AID BUILDERS

Millions For Ohio and Adjoining States To Be Turned Loose Soon.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 11.—First steps toward loaning millions to Ohio and adjoining states for sound projects of home construction were taken today when directors of the Cincinnati district federal home loan bank held their first meeting.

Formal organization of the bank, which will serve Ohio, Kentucky and Tennessee, was effected. Henry Colliaris of Cincinnati was formally named president; Harry Kissell of Springfield was chosen chairman, and L. A. Hickman of Louisville, Ky., was named vice president.

The bank will open Oct. 15 in temporary offices in the chamber of commerce building. It was decided, and will immediately begin distributing federal funds for home congressional relief act.

Funds will be available to building associations and banks. A total of $15,000,000 will be at the disposal of the federal bank.

MANY AMERICANS MENACED BY JAPS

MUKDEN, Oct. 11.—Seventeen American missionaries were trapped today in the Tungku area of Manchuria, where Japanese troops are waging an encircling offensive movement against rebels.

The area, which exceeds 20,000 square miles, has been overrun by the irregular troops who have persistently waged war against the Japanese-controlled Manchukuo regime. The rebels number about 15,000 men.

Particular fears were felt for 10 missionaries who are isolated in the interior fighting zones and who are believed to be seriously menaced by the Japanese aerial operations.

SCHOOL BAND, 70 TEMPLARS ENTER PARADE

COLUMBUS IS SCENE

Party to March at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday

Seventy members of the Scioto Commandery No. 23 Knights Templar, augmented by the 60-piece Circleville high school band, will trek to Columbus Wednesday to take part in the templar parade, a part of the state conclave, during the afternoon.

The party will leave this city at noon in private automobiles. Seventy-seven commanderies with 22 bands will have part in the procession scheduled to move at 2:30 p. m.

Walker Baughman is eminent commander of the local commandery and has as his committee for the visit to the conclave, C. C. Chappellear, H. D. Jackson, H. G. Stevenson, H. E. Betz, E. L. Tolbert, O. J. Towers, B. B. Bales and George E. Roth.

SMITH IS CAPTAIN

Eminent Sir Clyde L. Smith, Fremont, O., grand captain general of the Grand Commandery Knights Templar of Ohio, will be captain general of the parade. He is being assisted in arranging the procession by Eminent Sir Harry R. Hartman, 344 S. Ardmore-rd., a past commander of Mt. Vernon Commandery, No. 1 of Columbus.

The parade will proceed west in Broad-st. to Third-st. to Spring-st. to High-st., to Broad-st. to Front-st. to High-st., passing the reviewing stand which will be constructed in E. Broad-st. along the north front of the state house to Fifth-st.

MARCH TWELVE ABREAST

All the commanderies will march 12 abreast and at the line of march, all bands, drum and bugle corps will reform, massed and under direction of Charles Overholzer, leader of Mt. Vernon Commandery band, will march west in Broad-st., again passing the reviewing stand and proceed to the W. Broad-st. bridge.

On this march the massed bands will play "Onward Christian Soldiers" continuously until the column halts on the bridge when the bands will play the Star Spangled Banner, after which the buglers will sound "recall" and the parade will disband.

A special company of knights who reside in Columbus, but who are members of commanderies in other cities, will be formed in the escort division with Mt. Vernon Commandery No. 1. It will be commanded by Capt. William G. Purdy.

GUARDS' BAYONETS USED ON PICKETS

TAYLORSVILLE, Ill., Oct. 11.—National guardsmen used bayonets on pickets who attempted to halt operation at Peabody No. 58 coal mine here this morning.

The troopers prodded the protesting men along in front of them and cleared the streets for blocks around. No one was hurt.

A shouting mob of hundreds of miners who brought their wives along to aid in the disturbance greeted state troopers and miners who were returning to work in the shafts.

ROOSEVELT PLANS SPEECH ON RELIEF

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 11.—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt in a twenty-minute nationwide radio address Thursday night, will suggest steps which he believes the federal government should take for the relief of the destitute and unemployed during the coming winter months.

The Democratic presidential nominee decided to present his relief program at this time because of declarations made by ten of the country's leading social welfare workers that present conditions are a menace to world health.

Insull Begins Fight

Utility Magnate Obtains Lawyer to Try to Pre- vent Extradition

BULLETIN

ATHENS, Greece, Oct. 11.—Fighting with all the resources at his command Samuel Insull, Chicago utilities magnate, today lost the first round of his battle to defeat extradition to the United States.

At the moment police were ready to release him the American authorities stepped in with a formal request that Insull's detention be continued pending completion of the necessary extradition formalities.

ATHENS, Greece, Oct. 11.—Samuel Insull, former Chicago utilities magnate, held here by Greek police, began his fight against extradition to the United States today.

After hiring a Greek lawyer to defend his interests, the ex-millionaire, indicted for larceny and embezzlement in his adopted city, declared:

"Now I am confident I will not be extradited."

Although he made this statement while still retained in the office of the Athens chief of police, Insull was in high spirits.

The lawyer demanded that Insull be released from custody on the grounds the extradition treaty between Greece and the United States was not yet effective.

He declared Insull could not be held by authorities for more than Continued on Page Six

NAVY FLYERS LOST AT SEA

Cruisers, Destroyers, Plane- Carriers Search Pacific Waters For Men.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Oct. 11.—Seven cruisers, five destroyers and three airplane carriers today searched the ocean near San Clemente Island, 60 miles from here, for Lieut. Edward C. Dyer, U. S. Marine Corps, whose airplane was one of six forced down by fog late yesterday.

With Dyer was an enlisted man named Chambers.

Lieut. H. E. Koonce, in one of the six planes forced down, was rescued by the aircraft carrier Lexington, while Lieuts. A. D. Cooley and D. C. Roberts in their planes were picked up by the aircraft carrier Saratoga.

Commander W. C. Brice and Lieut. C. E. Fox flew back to San Diego after the fog lifted.

Throughout the night huge searchlights of the U. S. navy vessels played on the seas in an effort to locate Lieut. Dyer and his missing airplane.

The six-plane squadron was separated from the aircraft carriers by the pea-soup fog at 3:40 p. m. yesterday.

When the fog lifted, the planes of Koonce, Cooley and Roberts were picked up, and Brice and Fox reported they had attained land, but Dyer's plane was believed to have run out of fuel during his efforts to re-locate the carriers or the other fliers, and it was feared he had landed in an isolated area.

The six aviators were attached to the 15-M squadron and had hopped off from the U. S. S. Langley yesterday for maneuvers in the vicinity of San Clemente Island.

VETERAN SENT ON

William H. Rine of Lancaster, patient at the Veterans' hospital at Chillicothe, was placed on the bus for that city Tuesday morning by Police Chief W. H. Warner after he had spent the night in the city jail.

Rine was taken in tow by Warner Monday evening when he was intoxicated to ride on the bus. He had been on a leave of absence.

WRECK DELAYS FREIGHT TRAIN FOR HALF HOUR

Four Men Miraculously Escape Injury as Car Hits Track Gates

TWO IN 2 CRASHES

Time Required to Remove Hudson Sedan

A westbound Norfolk & Western freight train was delayed for 30 minutes and four men miraculously escaped serious injury at the S. Court-st. crossing of the Norfolk & Western railroad at 8:30 p. m. Monday when an automobile in which the men were riding crashed through lowered gates.

The men were Albert and Gene Jackson of 1505 Minnesota-ave, Columbus. Gene Wood of 512 Pleasant Run boulevard, Indianapolis, Ind., and Francis Story of 126 W. 2nd-st., Chillicothe. Wood and Story had been in a previous accident north of the city and were riding to Chillicothe in the other car.

CRASHED GATES

Albert Jackson was driving a Hudson sedan south on Court-st. and apparently did not see two lanterns hanging on the gates. His car crashed through the gates and into a hole which had been dug in the west-bound tracks where repairs are being made.

The gates smashed the radiator cap off the car and broke the windshield.

The E. E. Clifton wrecker was immediately called to the scene and attempted to pull the Hudson from the ditch. This task was a difficult one and Mr. Lamb, in the tower of the N. & W. had to put the signal against a freight train just as it was rounding the curve.

The train was held up until the car was removed.

Percy Turner, colored, was on duty as watchman at the tracks and said the lights were burning. The hard rain might have impaired the driver's vision. W. M. Justus, 921 S. Court-st., also saw the accident.

SKID OFF ROAD

About two hours earlier Wood and Story, cousins, were traveling toward Columbus on the Scioto Trail when the DeSoto driven by Wood skidded off the left side of the road at the Walters farm and struck the fence. The car was considerably damaged but no one was injured. Deputy Sheriff Miller Fissell and Morris Boggs investigated the crash.

Wood and Story, according to the police report, entered the Hudson and started toward Chillicothe only to have that car crash also.

The Wood car was taken to the Circleville Motors garage.

DISPOSAL PLANT ISSUE FACES TEST

Effort of Cities To Defy Or- ders To Go To State's Supreme Court.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 11.—The question of whether municipalities can defy state orders by pleading that they are "broken" will be raised soon in the state supreme court as a part of the legal fight to compel Van Wert, Bucyrus, Bowling Green, Crestline and Washington C. H. to construct sewage disposal plants.

Officials of the state health department announced today that such a question will be the basis for argument in the mandamus action recently brought by Health Director H. G. Southard against the city of Van Wert in a test case.

Argument on a demurrer filed by Van Wert is expected to be heard soon after the first of the year.

Van Wert has contended that it is powerless to build a plant, even though ordered to do so because it already has issued up to its limit in bonds, and has not obtained the consent of the electorate to go forward.

"BEER IN YEAR?"

BOSTON Oct. 11.—Three per cent beer before next year is over this was the prediction today of United States Senator David I. Walsh (D.).

Wine seems to be the only liquor, he told members of the New England Purchasing Agents' Association, adding that the marked change in public sentiment for prohibition would be probably enough to cause Congress to make some provision for the supply and sale of three per cent alcoholic content beer.

ATTENDS MEETING

D. L. Buchanan, superintendent of county schools, attended a superintendents' meeting at Athens, Monday, with 18 counties represented. The matter of state aid for schools was the most important question.

Prince's Partner

The dream of many a young maiden was realized by this beautiful Swedish girl, Miss Greta Stephan, prominent Stockholm blue-blood, when she was chosen as one of the dancing partners for the Prince of Wales during his visit to the Swedish capital. Wales was the guest of the Swedish royal family.

PAPERS HELP FREE COUPLE

Secret Six Chief Thanks News- papers For Publicity On Kidnaping.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—Rapid and full newspaper publicity was credited today with the release of Norman B. Collins, bank president, from the clutches of kidnapers who held him in captivity for 12 hours.

Collins, head of the Security Bank of Chicago and the Second Security Bank, was freed last night after the Secret Six, famed crime-fighting agency, had spread a mile-square net to entrap the abductors. The demanded $5,000 ransom was not paid and the victim was hungry, but unharmed.

Alexander Jamie, director of the Secret Six, attributed Collins' release to the speedy publication of newspaper accounts of the kidnaping. Jamie said that headlines had unmistakably given the abductors to understand that Secret Six had been destroyed and authorities were in pursuit. They freed their victim to escape imminent capture, Jamie said.

Collins' wife, who had also been kidnaped but was released in order to raise the ransom money, promptly reported the incident to James E. Forgan, Jr., board chairman of her husband's banks, who, in turn, enlisted the aid of the Secret Six.

WOMAN IS SLAIN

NEW YORK Oct. 11.—Brutally murdered the body of a young mother of five children was found today slumped in the front seat of a green sedan bearing stolen license plates. The car had been driven over a curb head-on into a tree in the Dyker Heights section of Brooklyn.

The victim's throat was slashed. Her wrists and arms bore cruel wounds inflicted with a six-inch butcher knife. Apparently she fought desperately but futilely with her assassins until they overcame her and killed her.

She was Mrs. Gemma Pigutaro, 36. Robbery apparently was not the motive for the slaying, as several costly rings were found on her fingers.

During the two arguments of the case, members of the court listened attentively but indulged in no discussion which might indicate their views on any feature of the case.

THIEVES ROB HOME OF SHOW VISITORS

While Mr. and Mrs. Harold Woodhouse of Columbus, were visiting the past week-end with Mr. Woodhouse's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Darden of Waterville, thieves entered their residence in Columbus Saturday night or Sunday morning. They took a revolver valued at $30 and a flashlight.

"MURDERED" GIRL VERY MUCH ALIVE

LOS ANGELES Oct. 11.—Mildred Schindler, 24, a hitch hiker from La Porte, Ind., today walked into a police station while a search was being made for her body at Needles, Cal., following a "confession" at Fresno, Cal., by Arthur Metcalfe, 19, Indiana farm youth, that he had murdered her.

Miss Schindler who said she had hitch hiked from Indiana to California with Metcalfe, was reunited by her companion's strange "confession."

She said that Metcalfe had taken her to Fresno to visit her mother, while she had decided to visit her

FARMER USES GUN TO TAKE HIS OWN LIFE

George Grunner, 57, Sup- posedly Well-to-Do Am- anda Man, Suicides

WORRY IS BLAMED

Lived on His Farm Ten- anted by Deans

George Grunner, aged 57, prominent and reputedly substantial Amanda farmer, committed suicide at his home two and one-half mile north of that village Tuesday morning by shooting himself through the heart.

Grunner, a bachelor, placed the butt of a double-barreled shotgun against the base of an iron fence which surrounds his property, then put the barrel-end of the gun against his heart. He bent over to pull the trigger. Only one barrel of the gun was loaded but the entire charge entered his heart killing him instantly.

BLAME WORRIES

Coroner W. H. Eck of Fairport, was summoned and pronounced death due to suicide brought on through worry over financial conditions, although the nature of the financial "worries" were not disclosed. Deputy Sheriff Bill E. Horn was also called to the scene.

Mr. Grunner had been living on his farm property since the early part of the year. He was married and Mrs. Irvin Dean, who operated the place, known as the Charles Griffith farm.

PREPARED TO EAT
The deceased man had got out of bed Tuesday morning and prepared for breakfast. He had had gone to the barn to care for the horses and Mrs. Dean was busy getting breakfast. Mr. Grunner was not missed until they found him in a pool of blood in the front yard.

Mr. Dean said he thought he had heard a shot while in the barn. He thought nothing of it at first but did not hear the shot.

Mr. Grunner has a number of brothers and sisters all of whom are living in the vicinity of Fairport.

Dr. H. C. Allen, S. Condit, who underwent observation at Berger hospital Monday, was returned to his home Monday evening.

Mrs. John Chilcote of Kingsport, was returned to her home from Berger hospital Monday evening after undergoing observation.

Mrs. Louise Bennett, S. Court-st., was admitted to Berger hospital Monday afternoon and will undergo a major operation Wednesday.

William Espenschied, six-months old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Espenschied, 358 E. Mill-st., underwent an operation for an obstruction of the bowels at Berger hospital Tuesday morning, by Dr. D. V. Courtright.

Mrs. Luirida Skaggs, 18, of 404 N. Scioto-st., was to be operated upon Tuesday afternoon at Berger hospital, by Dr. D. V. Courtright.

Dwight Rector, 4, of Decatur-st., had his tonsils and adenoids removed at Berger hospital Tuesday morning by Dr. Pavey of Columbus, a relative.

REMUS IN "LIGHT"

Cincinnati Man's Activities In Liquor Dealings Scrutinized by U. S.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 11.—Once again the local microscope was being applied today to the alleged liquor activities of George Remus, so-called "king of bootleggers."

Remus' activities in connection with his alleged purchase of Jack Daniels Distilling Company's bonded warehouse at St. Louis in 1923 and the disappearance of more than 400 barrels of bonded whiskey, will be aired in a re-trial of the case of the Southern Society of Commerce of New York, against Lem Motlow, Lynchburg, Tenn., former owner of the St. Louis warehouse.

Miss Schindler who said she had hitch hiked from Indiana to California with Metcalfe, was reunited by her companion's strange "confession."

She said that Metcalfe had taken her to Fresno to visit her mother, while she had decided to visit her

Millions For Ohio and Adjoining States To Be Turned Loose Soon.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 11.—First steps toward loaning millions to Ohio and adjoining states for sound projects of home construction were taken today when directors of the Cincinnati district federal home loan bank held their first meeting.

Formal organization of the bank, which will serve Ohio, Kentucky and Tennessee, was effected. Henry Collarius of Cincinnati was formally named president; Harry Kissell of Springfield was chosen chairman, and L. A. Hickman of Louisville, Ky., was named vice president.

The bank will open Oct. 15 in temporary offices in the chamber of commerce building, it was decided, and will immediately begin distributing federal funds for home construction relief act.

Funds will be available to building associations and banks. A total of $15,000,000 will be at the disposal of the federal bank.

MANY AMERICANS MENACED BY JAPS

MUKDEN, Oct. 11.—Seventeen American missionaries were trapped today in the Tungpian area of Manchuria, were Japanese troops are waging an encircling offensive movement against rebels.

The area, which exceeds 20,000 square miles, has been over-run by the irregular troops, who have persistently waged war against the Japanese-controlled Manchukuo regime. The rebels number about 15,000 men.

Particular fears were felt for 10 missionaries who are isolated in the interior fighting zones and who are believed to be seriously menaced by the Japanese aerial operations.

FARMER KILLED
DEFIANCE, Oct. 11.—F. L. Hale, 45, Washington-twp farmer, was instantly killed today when he drove his automobile in the path of a Baltimore & Ohio passenger train.

SCHOOL BAND, 70 TEMPLARS ENTER PARADE

High School Organization to Join Local Knights In Big Conclave

COLUMBUS IS SCENE

Party to March at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday

Seventy members of the Scioto Commandery No. 23 Knights Templar, augmented by the 60-piece Circleville high school band, will trek to Columbus Wednesday to take part in the templar parade, a part of the state conclave, during the afternoon.

The party will leave this city at noon in private automobiles. Seventy-seven commanderies with 22 bands will have part in the procession scheduled to move at 2:30 p. m.

Walker Baughman is eminent commander of the local commandery and has as his committee for the visit to the conclave, C. C. Chapplear, H. D. Jackson, H. G. Stevenson, H. E. Betz, E. L. Tolbert, O. J. Towens, B. R. Bales and George E. Roth.

SMITH IS CAPTAIN

Eminent Sir Clyde L. Smith, Fremont, O., grand captain general of the Grand Commandery Knights Templar of Ohio, will be captain general of the parade. He is being assisted in arranging the procession by Eminent Sir Harry R. Hartman, 344 S. Ardmore-rd., a past commander of Mt. Vernon Commandery, No. 1 of Columbus.

The parade will proceed west in Broad-st to Third-st to Spring-st to High-st, to Broad-st to Front-st to High-st, to Broad-st, passing the reviewing stand which will be constructed in E. Broad-st along the north front of the state house to Fifth-st.

MARCH TWELVE ABREAST

All the commanderies will march 12 abreast and as the line approaches Fifth-st, all bands, drum and bugle corps will reform, massed and under direction of Carlos Overholzer, leader of Mt. Vernon Commandery band, will march west in Broad-st, again passing the reviewing stand and proceed to the W. Broad-st bridge.

On this march the massed bands will play "Onward Christian Soldiers" continuously until the column halts on the bridge when the bands will play the Star Spangled Banner, after which the buglers will sound "recall" and the parade will disband.

A special company of knights who reside in Columbus, but who are members of commanderies in other cities, will be formed in the district division with Mt. Vernon Commandery No. 1. It will be commanded by Capt. William G. Purdy.

GUARDS' BAYONETS USED ON PICKETS

TAYLORSVILLE, Ill., Oct. 11.—National guardsmen used bayonets on pickets who attempted to halt operation at Peabody No. 58 coal mine here this morning.

The troopers prodded the protesting men along in front of them and cleared the streets for blocks around. No one was hurt.

A shouting mob of hundreds of miners who brought their wives along to aid in the disturbance greeted state troopers and miners who were returning to work in the shafts.

ROOSEVELT PLANS SPEECH ON RELIEF

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 11.—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt in a twenty-minute nationwide radio address Thursday night, will suggest steps which he believes the federal government should take for the relief of the destitute and unemployed during the coming winter months.

The Democratic presidential nominee decided to present his relief program at this time because of declarations made by ten of the country's leading social welfare workers that present conditions are a menace to child health.

Theatre To Show Movies Of Baby Parade, Winners

The first of a series of Circleville Herald-Cliftona theater news reels will be shown at the theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Sam Fox, manager of the moviehouse, announced Tuesday following the completion of the first news-reel.

The baby parade and close-ups of winners and interesting babies will be shown. The pictures are excellent and persons shown are easily recognized, a test showing of the news-reel Tuesday morning disclosed.

Insull Begins Fight

BULLETIN

ATHENS, Greece, Oct. 11.—Fighting with all the resources at his command Samuel Insull, Chicago utilities magnate, today lost the first round of his battle to defeat extradition to the United States.

At the moment police were ready to release him the American authorities stepped in with a formal request that Insull's detention be continued pending completion of the necessary extradition formalities.

ATHENS, Greece, Oct. 11.—Samuel Insull, former Chicago utilities magnate, held here by Greek police, began his fight against extradition to the United States today.

After hiring a Greek lawyer to defend his interests, the ex-millionaire, indicted for larceny and embezzlement in his adopted city, declared:

"Now I am confident I will not be extradited."

Although he made this statement while still retained in the office of the Athens chief of police, Insull was in high spirits.

DEMANDS RELEASE

The lawyer demanded that Insull be released from custody on the grounds the extradition treaty between Greece and the United States was not yet effective.

He declared Insull could not be held by authorities for more than

NAVY FLYERS LOST AT SEA

Cruisers, Destroyers, Plane Carriers Search Pacific Waters For Men.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Oct. 11.—Seven cruisers, five destroyers and three airplane carriers today searched the ocean near San Clemente Island, 60 miles from here, for Lieut. Edward C. Dyer, U. S. Marine Corps, whose airplane was one of six forced down by fog late yesterday.

With Dyer was an enlisted man named Chambers.

Lieut. H. E. Koonce, in one of the six planes forced down, was rescued by the aircraft carrier Lexington, while Lieuts. A. D. Cooley and D. C. Roberts in their planes were picked up by the aircraft carrier Saratoga.

Commander W. O. Brice and Lieut. C. E. Fox flew back to San Diego after the fog lifted.

Throughout the night huge searchlights of the U. S. navy vessels played on the seas in an effort to locate Lieut. Dyer and his missing airplane.

The six-plane squadron was separated from the aircraft carriers by the pea-soup fog at 3:40 p. m. yesterday.

When the fog lifted, the planes of Koonce, Cooley and Roberts were picked up, and Brice and Fox reported they had attained land, but Dyer's plane was believed to have run out of fuel during his efforts to re-locate the carriers and the other fliers, and it was feared he had landed in an isolated area.

The six aviators were attached to the 15-M squadron and had hopped off from the U. S. S. Langley yesterday for maneuvers in the vicinity of San Clemente Island.

VETERAN SENT ON

William H. Rine of Lancaster, patient at the Veterans' hospital at Chillicothe, was placed on the bus for that city Tuesday morning by Police Chief W. H. Warner after he had spent the night in the city jail.

Rine was taken in tow by Warner Monday evening when he was too intoxicated to ride on the bus. He had been on a leave of absence.

WRECK DELAYS FREIGHT TRAIN FOR HALF HOUR

Four Men Miraculously Escape Injury as Car Hits Track Gates

TWO IN 2 CRASHES

Time Required to Remove Hudson Sedan

A westbound Norfolk & Western freight train was delayed for 30 minutes and four men miraculously escaped serious injury at the S. Court-st crossing of the Norfolk & Western railroad at 8:30 p. m. Monday when an automobile in which the men were riding crashed through lowered gates.

The men were Albert and Gene Jackson of 1505 Minnesota-ave, Columbus, Gene Wood of 512 Pleasant Run boulevard, Indianapolis, Ind., and Francis Story of 126 W. 2nd-st, Chillicothe. Wood and Story had been in a previous accident north of the city and were riding to Chillicothe in the other car.

CRASHED GATES

Albert Jackson was driving a Hudson sedan south on Court-st and apparently did not see two lanterns hanging on the gates. His car crashed through the gates and into a hole which had been dug in the west-bound tracks where repairs are being made. The gates smashed the radiator cap off the car and broke the windshield.

The E. E. Clifton wrecker was immediately called to the scene and attempted to pull the Hudson from the ditch. This task was a difficult one and Mr. Lamb, in the tower of the N. & W. had to put the signal against a freight train just as it was rounding the curve. The train was held up until the car was removed.

Percy Turner, colored, was on duty as watchman at the tracks and said the lights were burning. The hard rain might have impaired the driver's vision. W. M. Justus, 921 S. Court-st, also saw the accident.

SKID OFF ROAD

About two hours earlier Wood and Story, cousins, were traveling toward Columbus on the Scioto Trail when the DeSoto driven by Wood skidded off the left side of the road at the Walters farm and struck the fence. The car was considerably damaged but no one was injured. Deputy Sheriff Miller Fissell and Morris Boggs investigated the crash.

Wood and Story, according to the police report, entered the Hudson and started toward Chillicothe only to have that car crash, also.

The Wood car was taken to the Circleville Motors garage.

DISPOSAL PLANT ISSUE FACES TEST

Effort of Cities To Defy Orders To Go To State's Supreme Court.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 11.—The question of whether municipalities can defy state orders by pleading that they are "broke" will be raised soon in the state supreme court as a part of the legal fight to compel Van Wert, Bucyrus, Bowling Green, Crestline and Washington C. H. to construct sewage disposal plants.

Officials of the state health department announced today that such a question will be the basis for argument in the mandamus action recently brought by Health Director H. G. Southard against the city of Van Wert in a test case.

Argument on a demurrer filed by Van Wert is expected to be heard soon after the first of the year.

Van Wert has contended that it is powerless to build a plant, even though ordered to do so, because it already has issued up to its limit in bonds, and has not obtained the consent of the electorate to go farther.

"BEER IN YEAR?"

BOSTON, Oct. 11.—Three per cent beer before next year is over—this was the prediction today of United States Senator David I. Walsh, (D).

Wine seems to be out of the picture, he told members of the New England Purchasing Agents' Association, adding that the marked change in sentiment for beer probably would cause Congress to make some provision for the supply and sale of three per cent alcoholic content beer.

ATTENDS MEETING

D. L. Buchanan, superintendent of county schools, attended a superintendents' meeting at Athens, Monday, with 18 others representing. The matter of state aid for schools was the most important question.

Prince's Partner

The dream of many a young maiden was realized by this beautiful Swedish girl, Miss Greta Stephan, prominent Stockholm blue-blood, when she was chosen as one of the dancing partners for the Prince of Wales during his visit to the Swedish capital. Wales was the guest of the Swedish royal family.

PAPERS HELP FREE COUPLE

Secret Six Chief Thanks Newspapers For Publicity On Kidnaping.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—Rapid and full newspaper publicity was credited today with the release of Norman B. Collins, bank president, from the clutches of kidnappers who held him in captivity for 12 hours.

Collins, head of the Security Bank of Chicago and the Second Security Bank, was freed last night after the Secret Six, famous crime-fighting agency, had spread a mile-square net to entrap the abductors. The demanded $5,000 ransom was not paid and the victim was hungry, but unharmed.

Alexander Jamie, director of the Secret Six, attributed Collins' release to the speedy publication of newspaper accounts of the kidnaping. Jamie said that headlines had unmistakably given the abductors to understand that secrecy had been destroyed and authorities were in pursuit. They freed their victim to escape imminent capture, Jamie said.

Collins' wife, who had also been kidnapped but was released in order to raise the ransom money, promptly reported the incident to James B. Forgan, Jr., board chairman of her husband's banks, who, in turn, enlisted the aid of the Secret Six.

WOMAN IS SLAIN

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Brutally murdered the body of a young mother of five children was found today slumped in the front seat of a green sedan bearing stolen license plates. The car had been driven over a curb head-on into a tree in the Dyker Heights section of Brooklyn.

The victim's throat was slashed. Her wrists and arms bore cruel wounds inflicted with a six-inch butcher knife. Apparently she fought desperately but futilely with her assassins until they overcame her and killed her.

She was Mrs. Gemma Piguarato, 36. Robbery apparently was not the motive for the slaying, as several costly rings were found on her fingers.

DECISION HELD IN NEGRO CASES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—The Supreme court today had under advisement the appeal of seven young negroes sentenced to death in Alabama for alleged assault on two white girls with no indication of their attitude.

During the two arguments of the case, members of the court listened attentively but indulged in no discussion which might indicate their views on any feature of the case.

THIEVES ROB HOME OF SHOW VISITORS

While Mr. and Mrs. Harold Woodhouse of Columbus, were visiting the past week-end with Mrs. Woodhouse's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McFadden of Wattstown, thieves entered their residence in Columbus Saturday night or Sunday morning. They took a revolver valued at $30 and a flashlight.

"ALICE" TO WRITE

CINCINNATI, Oct. 11.—Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth will break her long rule of silence about the "inside" of Washington society and politics in her memoirs which soon will be published in a leading magazine, she disclosed today.

It is expected that Mrs. Longworth, daughter of the late President Theodore Roosevelt and widow of Speaker Nicholas Longworth, will reveal many details of her own social and political career.

FARMER USES GUN TO TAKE HIS OWN LIFE

George Grunner, 57, Supposedly Well-to-Do Amanda Man, Suicides

WORRY IS BLAMED

Lived on His Farm Tenanted by Deans

George Grunner, aged 57, prominent and reputedly substantial Amanda farmer, committed suicide at his home two and one-half mile north of that village Tuesday morning by shooting himself through the heart.

Grunner, a bachelor, placed the butt of a double-barreled shotgun against the base of an iron fence which surrounds his property, then put the barrel-end of the gun against his heart. He bent over to pull the trigger. Only one barrel of the gun was loaded but the entire charge entered his heart killing him instantly.

BLAME WORRIES

Coroner W. H. Eck of Fairfield-co. was summoned and pronounced death due to suicide brought on through worry over financial conditions, although the nature of the financial "worries" were not disclosed. Deputy Sheriff Bill Belhorn was also called to the scene.

Mr. Grunner had been living on his farm property since last February making his home with Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Dean, who operated the place, known as the Charles Griffith farm.

PREPARED TO EAT

The deceased man had got out of bed Tuesday morning and prepared for breakfast. Mr. Dean had gone to the barn to care for the horses and Mrs. Dean was busy getting breakfast. Mr. Grunner was not missed until time to eat when both Mr. and Mrs. Dean went to look for him. They found him in a pool of blood in the front yard.

Mr. Dean said he thought he had heard a shot while in the barn but thought nothing of it. Mrs. Dean did not hear the shot.

Mr. Grunner has a number of brothers and sisters all of Fairfield and Hocking-coes. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

HOSPITAL NEWS

Dr. H. C. Allen, S. Court-st. who underwent observation at Berger hospital Monday, was returned to his home Monday evening.

Mrs. John Chilcote of Kingston, was returned to her home from Berger hospital Monday evening after undergoing observation.

Mrs. Louise Bennett, S. Court-st. was admitted to Berger hospital Monday afternoon and will undergo a major operation Wednesday.

William Espenschied, six-months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Myer Espenschied, 338 E. Mill-st. underwent an operation for an obstruction of the bowels at Berger hospital Tuesday morning, by Dr. D. V. Courtright.

Mrs. Lurida Skaggs, 18, of 404 N. Scioto-st. was to be operated upon Tuesday afternoon at Berger hospital, by Dr. D. V. Courtright.

Dwight Rector, 4, of Deercreek-twp. had his tonsils and adenoids removed at Berger hospital Tuesday morning by Dr. Pavey of Columbus, a relative.

REMUS IN "LIGHT"

Cincinnati Man's Activities In Liquor Dealings Scrutinized by U. S.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 11.—Once again the legal microscope was being applied today to the alleged liquor activities of George Remus, so-called "king of bootleggers."

Remus' activities in connection with his alleged purchase of Jack Daniels Distilling Company's bonded warehouse in St. Louis in 1923 and the disappearance of more than 800 barrels of bonded whiskey, will be aired in a re-trial of the case of the Southern Surety Company of New York, against Lem Motlow, Lynchburg, Tenn. former owner of the St. Louis

Wittenberg, O. Wesleyan Contest Is Head-Liner

Feature Buckeye Conference
Tilt of Weekend To Be at

CARD OTHER TEAMS

Wesleyan Shows Power In Beating Syracuse.

By GILSON WRIGHT

After a lapse of three years, Wittenberg and Ohio Wesleyan will meet on the gridiron Saturday in the feature Buckeye conference game of the week-end.

Only one other championship game will be played this week, Miami meeting Denison at Granville on Saturday. All other conference teams, though, have games with non-conference eleven, the feature of this group being the Ohio university-Navy contest at Annapolis.

The Wittenberg-Ohio Wesleyan battle will be staged on Selby field, Delaware, and will be the first between the two colleges since the memorable scorpions tie played at Springfield in 1929. The game ended in a controversy, as did the games the two previous years, and relations for a time were broken off.

FEATURE EVENT

Ohio intercollegiate football since 1894 has been featured on many occasions by Wittenberg-Ohio Wesleyan games, many of which have been hard-fought.

Other games on the week-end card for teams affiliated with the conference are Marshall at Georgetown, Ky., Friday; South Dakota State at Cincinnati Saturday night; Hanover at DePauw and Wabash at Evansville on Saturday afternoon.

The Ohio-Navy game will give the Bobcats still further opportunity to increase their prestige. Their 7 to 6 loss to Indiana a week ago last Saturday added to their already handsome three-year record, and a good scrap with the Navy will enhance the Bobcat's renown.

Ohio Wesleyan's sensational 19 to 12 upset of Syracuse featured the play of conference teams over the week-end. Wittenberg won the first conference championship game, beating Denison, 12 to 0. Other results were Ohio 39, Franklin O; Miami 33, DePauw 13; Cincinnati 13, Butler 7; Wabash 13, Rose Poly 6, and Marshall, 13, Western Maryland 13. Marshall looked especially impressive in its tie with the Maryland eleven, which was a powerful team. Two years ago the Maryland outfit went through the season undefeated.

'Overrate Team,' Williams Avers

COLUMBUS, Oct. 11.—Sam William, Ohio State university football coach, snapped his fingers today at the growing of the anvil chorus.

William declared today that he'll stand pat, in the big game with Michigan here Saturday, on the lineup that was held to a disappointing 7-7 tie by Indiana last week.

"Yes, I know they're howling about that Indiana game," said the chief tragedian of the Indiana tragedy, "but they forget that I have the weakest team I've had in three years."

"On the whole, the team did good. The tackling was weak at times, and the offense was rugged at others, but the public has generally overrated Ohio State and underrated Indiana."

"Ohio State was just a little bit off its stride against Indiana—like Bobby Jones missing a putt."

And thus did William set at rest the rumors that he would completely overhaul the Ohio State team in preparation for the colorful clash with the fast-growing Wolverines. A cry for a big shake up has gone up from some of the alumni and sports writers, who regard the Michigan game as the only one that counts, and who believed—until Saturday—that Ohio State had the greatest team in several seasons.

There is a possibility, he admitted, that one change may be brought about—the installation of "Buz" Wetzel of Toledo as fullback.

"TEAM OVERRATED"

"On the whole, the team did good. The tackling was weak at times, and the offense was rugged at others, but the public has generally overrated Ohio State and underrated Indiana."

About This And That

BY THE SECOND GUESSER

IF Ohio State's football team loses to Michigan Saturday the funeral director might as well be summoned for Alfred 'Hammer' Harrington, of the American Hotel—as loyal a Buckeye rooter as ever watched a game in the Ohio stadium. Hammer says the score will be 14-7 and the funny part of it is that Ohio will have the long end of the count. Well, as a prognosticator Hammer is the boy. He's won money—yes, some of ours, too—on his convictions concerning Ohio State's team and, although he doesn't care to place the maxima on the line, he's for Ohio's chances.

Hammer's biggest reason for this prediction is his unerring faith in Sam William's hopefulness who were more or less pitiful in their game against Indiana last Saturday. "His other reason is the fact that after losing to Vanderbilt 20-21 last year, that the Bucks came back to defeat Michigan at Ann Arbor. Time will tell."

Three speeches? concerning training and conditioning were handed Circleville's Tigers Monday evening instead of a practice session. The first was dished out by Prof. E. I. Gephart; the second by Charlie Hax, English teacher, and the third by Coach Pete Herberholz. Real practice was to start this evening for the contest with Bexley here Friday afternoon. REAL NEWS

FREDIE SMITH REPORTED FOR PRACTICE THIS AFTERNOON.

Some of Saturday's games: Northwestern at Illinois. Wisconsin at Purdue. Nebraska at Minnesota. Iowa at Indiana. Cornell at Princeton. Dartmouth at Pennsylvania. Pitt at Army. University of Navy. Drake at Notre Dame. Wittenberg at Ohio Wesleyan. Capital at Hiram. Miami at Denison.

TWO former teammates will be facing each other from opposite sides of the line at Ann Arbor Oct. 27, when the University of Michigan plays Princeton. Stanley Fay, star junior halfback of the Gopher team, and Foster Bales, star junior halfback of the Princeton team, played shoulder to shoulder at Lake Forest prep school for two years. Fay played a great game against Northwestern Saturday and so did Bales against Columbia. -etq

NEW GRIDIRON RULES AID TO GAME, DECIDE

Secretary of Committee Says
Injuries Have Been Low
This Year.

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports
Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—It's a bit early to start crowing but the man is an optimist or he wouldn't be secretary of the football rules committee and so William S. Langford feels today that he might like to chirrup a few treble notes on behalf of the new rules. With fingers crossed and eyes on high in mock piety, he points out that after more than 800 college games played since the start of the 1932 season, there have been almost no major and somewhat less than the customary run of minor injuries and that, as a usual thing, the maximum of casualties comes early in the season, not late. He added that, if all went well, there would be no further changes in the football code this winter and at least for several to come.

The miscellaneous sources of township revenue amounted to 8.1 per cent of total income. Such sources include the following items: inheritance tax, 1.2 per cent; cigarette dealers' licenses, .12 per cent; fines and costs, .04 per cent; interest earned, 1.4 per cent; commercial receipts, 5 per cent; other receipts, 3 per cent.

After analyzing the sources of revenue of townships in the state, Moore and Morrison surveyed township expenditures. Here, it

CHECK RECEPTION

"We've checked on the reception of the new game in all parts of the country," said he, "and everywhere our reports are distinctly favorable. These have come in from the Pacific coast, from the conference towns of the mid-west, from our own observation here and from Atlanta, Birmingham, New Orleans and other parts of the south. Almost without exception the approval has been wholehearted and generous."

The exception in question has been raised in connection with the now "dead ball" rule, of which he himself is the blushing author. It says, in effect, that the ball is dead at the point where any portion of the carrier's anatomy, his feet excepted, touch the ground, with prompt penalties provided for attempted evasion and outright violation. What it's critics have been saying is strictly locker room dialogue and not for literal publication. He even had a petition from the Big Ten coaches to lighten its severity but when the rules committee took a vote, its negative was unanimous, and Mr. Langford thinks the time is coming when everybody will feel much the same about it.

"We can't take a chance on interpretations creeping in," he went on. "As soon as we did that, we'd be up against chaos with a dead rule on our books. No, we have to be strict with it, because we have to show we mean business. Once they get that idea firmly in their minds, the players will cease trying to get that extra yard and the injuries will cease to pile up."

Anyhow, that's the gentleman's story.

TAXES IN OHIO TOWNSHIPS ANALYZED IN 11 COUNTIES

Turning the searchlight of scientific investigation on the income and outgo of townships in 11 Ohio counties, rural economists have found that 75.4 per cent of the average township's total income is from general property taxes and special assessments on real estate.

In 1930 townships received 5 per cent of the gasoline tax which yielded 16.5 per cent of their total income, according to H. R. Moore and F. L. Morrison who recently surveyed the rural Ohio tax situation. In 1931 the townships' slice of the gasoline tax was boosted to 8.75 per cent. The increase has made this source of revenue now of more importance than is indicated by the chart.

The miscellaneous sources of township revenue amounted to 8.1 per cent of total income. Such sources include the following items: inheritance tax, 1.2 per cent; cigarette dealers' licenses, .12 per cent; fines and costs, .04 per cent; interest earned, 1.4 per cent; commercial receipts, 5 per cent; other receipts, 3 per cent.

After analyzing the sources of revenue of townships in the state, Moore and Morrison surveyed township expenditures. Here, it was found that administrative costs of township government took 11.6 per cent of the income; charity in the form of outdoor poor relief claimed 4.2 per cent; and protection to persons and property was responsible for 1 per cent of the total cost of government. Six and two-tenths per cent of the total income went for cemeteries, and other miscellaneous services swallowed 1.5 per cent.

Highways, using 68.3 per cent of the township income, were responsible for the largest expenditures. Decrease in debt took 6.1 per cent and interest payments on debt 1.1 per cent of the total income. The two items represent present payments mainly for past road construction. Part of the funds included in the highway costs are borrowed and will show up as debt payments in future years.

Wittenberg, O. Wesleyan Contest Is Head-Liner

Feature Buckeye Conference Tilt of Weekend To Be at Selby Field.

CARD OTHER TEAMS

Wesleyan Shows Power In Beating Syracuse.

By GILSON WRIGHT

After a lapse of three years, Wittenberg and Ohio Wesleyan will meet on the gridiron Saturday in the feature Buckeye conference game of the week-end.

Only one other championship game will be played this week, Miami meeting Denison at Granville on Saturday. All other conference teams, though, have games with non-conference eleven, the feature of this group being the Ohio university-Navy contest at Annapolis.

The Wittenberg-Ohio Wesleyan battle will be staged on Selby field, Delaware, and will be the first between the two colleges since the memorable scoreless tie played at Springfield in 1929. The game ended in a controversy, as did the games the two previous years, and relations for a time were broken off.

FEATURE EVENT

Ohio intercollegiate football since 1894 has been featured on many occasions by Wittenberg-Ohio Wesleyan games, many of which have been hard-fought.

Other games on the week-end card for teams affiliated with the conference are Marshall at Georgetown, Ky., Friday; South Dakota State at Cincinnati Saturday night; Hanover at DePauw and Wabash at Evansville on Saturday afternoon.

The Ohio-Navy game will give the Bobcats still further opportunity to increase their prestige. Their 7 to 6 loss to Indiana a week ago last Saturday added to their already handsome three-year record, and a good scrap with the Navy will enhance the Bobcat's renown.

Ohio Wesleyan's sensational 19 to 12 upset of Syracuse featured the play of conference teams over the week-end. Wittenberg won the first conference championship game, beating Denison, 12 to 0. Other results were Ohio 39, Franklin O.; Miami 33, DePauw 13; Cincinnati 13, Butler 7; Wabash 13, Rose Poly 6, and Marshall, 13, Western Maryland 13. Marshall looked especially impressive in its tie with the Maryland eleven, which has a powerful team. Two years ago the Maryland outfit went through the season undefeated.

'Overrate Team,' Williams Avers

COLUMBUS, Oct. 11.—Sam William, Ohio State university football coach, snapped his fingers today at the growling of the anvil chorus.

William declared today that he'll stand pat, in the big game with Michigan here Saturday, on the lineup that was held to a disappointing 7-7 tie by Indiana last week.

"Yes, I know they're howling about that Indiana game," said the chief tragedian of the Indiana tragedy, "but they forget that I have the weakest team I've had in three years."

"TEAM OVERRATED"

"On the whole, the team did good. The tackling was weak at times, and the offense was rugged at others, but the public has generally overrated Ohio State and underrated Indiana.

"Ohio State was just a little bit off its stride against Indiana—like Bobby Jones missing a putt."

And thus did William set at

DAVIS INJURED

COLUMBUS, Oct. 11.—Hurt when his opponent, Everett Marshall, Pacific coast heavyweight, fell backwards on top of him, Karl Davis, Columbus wrestler, today has been forced to forfeit the main bout of a local grappling card.

Davis leaped on Marshall's back while the Californian was recovering from a series of leg splits. Marshall fell backwards and Davis suffered a serious groin injury.

About This And That

BY THE SECOND GUESSER

IF Ohio State's football team loses to Michigan Saturday the funeral director might as well be summoned for Alfred 'Hammer' Harrington, of the American Hotel—as loyal a Buckeye rooter as ever watched a game in the Ohio stadium. Hammer says the score will be 14-7 and the funny part of it is that Ohio will have the long end of the count. Well, as a prognosticator Hammer is the boy. He's won money—yes, some of ours, too—on his convictions concerning Ohio State's team, and, although he doesn't care to place the mazzuma on the line, he's for Ohio's chances.

Hammer's biggest reason for this prediction is his unerring faith in Sam Willaman's hopefuls who were more or less pitiful in their game against Indiana last Saturday. His other reason is the fact that after losing to Vanderbilt 26-21 last year, that the Bucks came back to defeat Michigan at Ann Arbor. Time will tell.

Three speeches? concerning training and conditioning were handed Circleville's Tigers Monday evening instead of a practice session. The first was dished out by Prof. E. I. Gephart; the second by Charlie Hax, English teacher, and the third by Coach Pete Herberholz. Real practice was to start this evening for the contest with Bexley here Friday afternoon. REAL NEWS—FREDDIE SMITH REPORTED FOR PRACTICE THIS AFTERNOON.

Some of Saturday's games: Northwestern at Illinois. Wisconsin at Purdue. Nebraska at Minnesota. Iowa at Indiana. Cornell at Princeton. Dartmouth at Pennsylvania. Pitt at Army. Ohio University at Navy. Drake at Notre Dame. Wittenberg at Ohio Wesleyan. Capital at Hiram. Miami at Denison.

TWO former teammates will be facing each other from opposite sides of the line at Ann Arbor Oct. 29, when the University of Michigan plays Princeton. Stanley Fay, star junior halfback of the Gopher team, and Foster Bales, star junior halfback of the Princeton team, played shoulder to shoulder at Lake Forest prep school for two years. Fay played a great game against Northwestern Saturday and so did Bales against Columbia. -etQ

"IVORY" TRADED

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—No cash—nothing but ivory—was involved in trading of four New York Giants for two St. Louis cardinal players, it was learned today. The deal sends Bill Walker and Jim Mooney, southpaw hurlers; Bob O'Farrell, catcher and Ethan Allen, outfielder, to St. Louis in exchange for Gus Mancuso, catcher, and Ray Starr, right-handed pitcher.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Joe McCarthy, manager of the world champion New York Yankees, was to confer today with Jake Ruppert, owner of the Yanks. McCarthy may sign a new contract today and it was reported he will receive a boost of about $20,000 in salary. He is now receiving about $30,000 a year.

NEW GRIDIRON RULES AID TO GAME, DECIDE

Secretary of Committee Says Injuries Have Been Low This Year.

By DAVIS J. WALSH International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—It's a bit early to start crowing but the man is an optimist or he wouldn't be secretary of the football rules committee and so William S. Langford feels today that he might like to chirrup a few treble notes on behalf of the new rules. With fingers crossed and eyes on high in mock piety, he points out that after more than 800 college games played since the start of the 1932 season, there have been almost no major and somewhat less than the customary run of minor injuries and that, as a usual thing, the maximum of casualties comes early in the season, not late. He added that, if all went well, there would be no further changes in the football code this winter and at least for several to come.

CHECK RECEPTION

"We've checked on the reception of the new game in all parts of the country," said he, "and everywhere our reports are distinctly favorable. These have come in from the Pacific coast, from the conference towns of the mid-west, from our own observation here and from Atlanta, Birmingham, New Orleans and other parts of the south. Almost without exception the approval has been wholehearted and generous."

The exception in question has been raised in connection with the now "dead ball" rule, of which he himself is the blushing author. It says, in effect, that the ball is dead at the point where any portion of the carrier's anatomy, his feet excepted, touch the ground, with prompt penalties provided for attempted evasion and outright violation. What it's critics have been saying is strictly locker room dialogue and not for literal publication. He even had a petition from the Big Ten coaches to lighten its severity but when the rules committee took a vote, its negative was unanimous, and Mr. Langford thinks the time is coming when everybody will feel much the same about it.

"We can't take a chance on interpretations creeping in," he went on. "As soon as we did that, we'd be up against chaos with a dead rule on our books. No, we have to be strict with it, because we have to show we mean business. Once they get that idea firmly in their minds, the players will cease trying to get that extra yard and the injuries will cease to pile up."

Anyhow, that's the gentleman's story.

W. C. T. U. WILL HEAR SEVERAL SPEAKERS

Members of the Circleville and Pickaway-co Woman's Christian Temperance Unions have been instructed by the county president, Mrs. Lucy B. Price, to listen to a number of broadcasts from the state convention in Cleveland, Oct. 17-21.

The first broadcast will be from WGAR, Monday at 5:30 p. m. with Mrs. Florence D. Richard to talk; the second over WHK at 4:30 p. m. Tuesday with Dr. Ernest Cherrington and daily over WJAY at 10:15 a. m. with Mrs. R. D. Sheppard on Monday, Mrs. Frances E. Fuller on Tuesday, Mrs. Viola D. his early forties and the father of five children. On the evening of Feb. 14, 1927 Morrison attended a St. Valentine's entertainment held in his church on W. Mill-st. Turner's daughter, a young girl about 10 years old was also present. During the course of the evening several men were in the habit of going in and out of the church to imbibe in liquor. Morrison attempted to tell the men if they insisted on drinking they could not return to the church.

When the entertainment was over Turner's girl went home and told her father Morrison had struck her, and the father was angered.

MET AT CORNER

Morrison at this time worked on the section gang. Turner, fired by the story of his daughter said that neither Morrison nor anyone else could mistreat his daughter. He went in search of the young colored man, it was reported, Morrison heard Turner was looking for him and attempted to reach him on telephone, but failed. On the morning of Feb. 17 Morrison went to Washington and Clinton-sts, the place designated for workmen to meet before leaving for the scene of their activities, and after waiting 30 or 40 minutes Turner appeared.

Turner climbed on the handcar and started to leave but jumped from the car and swung his dinner-pale at Morrison, it was reported. Morrison withdrew his right hand from his coat pocket and swung a knife at Turner. The weapon cut his coat but when Morrison again struck the blade penetrated Turner's abdomen and he died later in Mt. Carmel hospital, Columbus.

Morrison went to his home on Houston-st. and his wife tossed the knife which has never been found, in the river.

Morrison was arrested and entered his plea of guilty.

Cox Bares Ohio Issues

JAMES M. COX is a distinguished public servant. His long devotion to the best interests of Ohio have made him an "elder statesman," no longer actively seeking office, for whose judgement the people of the state have great respect. In his address at Columbus last night he made a penetrating analysis of the issues in the gubernatorial campaign.

Mr. Cox opposed the election of David S. Ingalls, Republican nominee for Governor, on two main counts. The first is inexperience. The second, which also involves inexperience, is the dangerously close connection between Mr. Ingalls and Maurice Maschke.

Ingalls' public experience consists of about one hundred days in the General Assembly and a short time as Assistant Secretary of the Navy. Cox logically concludes that this is not a background adequate for a man bearing the responsibilities of the Governor of Ohio in the two critical years ahead.

The heaviest objection which the former Governor brings against Ingalls, however, is the evidence indicating that he may be, if elected, a pawn in the hands of Maurice Maschke, Cleveland's unsavory Republican boss. Mr. Cox points out that "an unsophisticated young man in the Governor's office, honest to the very core, could be sold out a dozen times a day and not know it."

With the courage of a man who has the facts, Cox has built a powerful case that cannot fail to impress the voters of Ohio. It is strengthened by his full appreciation of the honesty and personal charm and willing spirit of Mr. Ingalls.

Pointing to Governor White's wealth of political experience, his proved level-headedness in restoring industrial peace in the Eastern Ohio coal crisis, his rigid honesty and unflinching courage, Cox makes a convincing case for the Democratic candidate. He rightly offers Governor White's greatest claim upon the voters his record of economy. The Governor has had the decision and the wisdom to balance the budget and keep it balanced, saving the taxpayers and preserving the credit of the state.

To be sure, Cox is a Democrat who has led the Democratic party of the nation and remains a leading figure in its councils. But his strong endorsement of Governor White transcends partisanship, is built on facts that speak for themselves. Coming from Mr. Cox, those arguments are worthy of special attention. In the last analysis the facts themselves are Governor White's strongest asset for reelection.

From the Cincinnati Enquirer.

A pessimist is an optimist who thought too much.

Misplaced Individuals

THE misfit or the subnormal individual has come to be a perplexing problem in today's social structure. In former years, when the pace was not so rapid, and when the pressure of earning a living was not so great, the misfit and the subnormal got along fairly well. Today, however, efficiency has become the keynote, and the individual who can not keep up with his fellows usually is left by the wayside.

But thousands of persons held to be subnormal are merely wrongly placed in the scheme of things. There are jobs they can do well if they can be found for them. The problem, then, is one of adjustment.

Much work along these lines is being done in the public schools in a number of states and in many cities. Because a child fails in one department of school work is not accepted as final proof that he is subnormal and a complete failure. In something else he may succeed notably. Part of every teacher's duty lies in fitting the work to the child as well as fitting the child to the work.

More failures in the world can be traced to a poor start than to absolute incompetency on the part of the individual. In every walk of life there are thousands of men and women who cannot succeed because they are trying to do something for which they are not fitted. Poor unfortunate! They waste their lives either because they will not quit, vainly hoping that if they keep on plugging and plugging they will win, or because they know not which way to turn.

Many a last year's lid covers a head full of sense.

The broad general rule is that the girl who looks most astonished when her Romeo finally proposes is the one who had it figured out a year ago what she would wear at the church.

"MURDER of the NIGHT CLUB LADY"

THE NEW THATCHER COLT DETECTIVE MYSTERY
BY ANTHONY ABBOT

COPYRIGHT, 1931, BY COWICH-FRIEDLE INC., DISTRIBUTED BY KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.

CHAPTER FORTY-ONE

"WHERE is Everett now?" asked the District Attorney.

"We have him under close observation."

"Then why shouldn't we get him up here right now," proposed Dougherty with an energetic swing of his powerful right arm. "He won't quibble with me. We'll put the facts right up to him and—"

But Dougherty never did finish that sentence. The door had opened and Captain Israel Henry came to attention at the Commissioner's desk.

"Excuse me, sir, but there is a gentleman and a lady outside who want to speak to you. They say their names are Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Quires."

"Send them right in!" said Thatcher Colt.

As we waited for Captain Henry to lead in these unexpected callers, our thoughts were busy with many expectations. More than twenty-four hours had passed since Edgar Quires received his sister's frightened message. During that interval, Christine Quires had been murdered!

Where had Quires been?

With a firm and confident tread Edgar Quires walked into the office of the Police Commissioner. He was older than the dead girl by at least ten years; he had a large, rugged face, with the reddish complexion of a sportsman out of training—a chow of a man, Colt said. His eyes were blue and his hair and mustache reddish, suggesting a mutation of the voluptuous gold hair of Christine. The brother was wearing an immense brown fur overcoat, and held in his hand a derby hat. I would have said he was a prepossessing and prosperous-looking man.

Beside Edgar Quires stood his wife, a large pale and nervous woman in a mink coat and a fashionable hat.

For a moment, no one spoke. Captain Henry closed the office door and in the silence I could hear the ticking of the watch on the wrist of the Police Commissioner.

It was Edgar Quires who broke the silence.

"Well, Mr. Colt," he said at last, "will you kindly tell me what is wanted?"

I brought two chairs forward and Colt invited them to be seated. "I may say," added Edgar Quires, "that I do not have the slightest idea of why I am here, why I seem to be in the custody of the police, or why I have been refused any information whatever by the detectives who brought me here and who have acted with the most overbearing complacency toward Mrs. Quires and myself."

Here Mr. Edgar Quires cast an indignant glance around him, including the Commissioner, the District Attorney and myself in the wrathful sweep of his blue eyes. Mrs. Quires looked loftily at the ceiling.

"When we reached Grand Central Station two bumptious and offensively conceited detectives accosted us," said Quires.

We were kept waiting downstairs in a room with a man who was manifestly a convict—the dungeon pallor was on his face. Finally we were brought here into your presence. That is a plain and simple statement of the facts, Mr. Colt. Now would you be so good as to explain the situation to me."

It sounded like the truth! And if so, what a disappointment! That Christine's fear of her own life, but that you have some good reason, very well, then. Against my wishes, probably her margin had been overruled. Had that fact played any part in her murder? She was about to denounce Lola—or the mysterious Rock-Billed Securities Corporation? Or was Edgar Quires telling something less than the truth? He had given us a simple and straightforward story. Yet how much I would have liked to place my hand on his shoulder and say, "Don't worry, I'll take care of you. I'll make sure you get the justice you deserve. I'll make sure you get the justice you deserve. I'll make sure you get the justice you deserve."

The Daily Horoscope

Tuesday, Oct. 11, 1932

Mixed aspects appearing today indicate better conditions regarding employment, finance, co-operative effort, especially in those government affairs which will occupy the attention of thinking people. The seers advise us to attend to regular routine work at this time.

Under such planetary government, much employment relief and stability are indicated for the near future, and excellent results are promised to those, especially in the clothing, the food, and chemical industries.

Political disturbances are prognosticated for Germany, relative to controversy and disputes over rulership with an aim to gain control.

The evening hours should be devoted to study of a scientific nature; many progressive plans may be brought to light at this hour.

Natives of the "Virgo" sign in Astrology, or those born between August 23rd and September 22nd, have three benefic influences working for their interests at this time.

Persons whose birth date it is, may be subject to an aspect which is unfavorable to health and business affairs at this time, but after November 20th of this year, should be subject to much gain in a general way with success through companies, lands, mines and investments. This benefic sway influences all "Libra" persons, for the whole of 1932.

A child born on this day may have a strong tendency toward affections and can gain prominence in public life; his training should include subjects relative to money matters and business administration.

Samuel Clarke, English philosopher and divine, was born on this date, 1675. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday, include Theodore Thomas, 1835, (Musical Director and Composer); Copyrighted by William Ashley Johnson, for Midwest Feature Service.)

Of course, "White Zombie" is an unusually actionable story, one which is told infinitely better in picture form than by the spoken word. This was one of the principal reasons for its selection in the first place, for Edward and Victor Halperin, its producers, have long since felt that the motion picture has been marring its possibilities since the advent of the talkies by the employment to too much dialogue.

Only where a line of dialogue is absolutely essential does a character speak in "White Zombie," and the result is a revelation. This means that for 85 per cent of the picture's length the story depends entirely upon camera action.

PIONEER "QUEEN" DIES

DENVER.—Colorado pioneers are mourning the death of Mary A. Singleton "Queen of Leadville," who recently died in Denver at the reputed age of 106 years. She was once the wife of "Diamond Joe" Lowe, a Mississippi river gambler killed in a Denver saloon 34 years ago during an argument over a card game.

Diet Didn't Do This!

HAPPY little girl, just bursting with pep, and she has never tasted a "tonic!"

Every child's stomach, liver, and bowels need stimulating at times, but give children something you know all about.

Follow the advice of that famous family physician who gave the world Syrup Pepsin. Stimulate the body's vital organs. Dr. Caldwell's prescription of pure pepsin, active senna, and fresh herbs is a mild stimulant that keeps the system from getting sluggish.

If your youngsters don't do well at school, don't play as hard or eat as well as other children do, begin this evening with Dr. Caldwell's

Syrup Pepsin. This gentle stimulant will soon right things! The bowels will move with better regularity and thoroughness. There won't be so many sick spells or colds. You'll find it just as wonderful for adults, too, in larger spoonfuls!

Get some Syrup Pepsin; protect your household from those bilious days, frequent headaches, and that sluggish state of half-health that means the bowels need stimulating. Keep this preparation in the home to use instead of harsh cathartics that cause chronic constipation if taken too often. You can always get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drug store; they have it all ready in big bottles.

Cox Bares Ohio Issues

JAMES M. COX is a distinguished public servant. His long devotion to the best interests of Ohio have made him an "elder statesman," no longer actively seeking office, for whose judgement the people of the state have great respect. In his address at Columbus last night he made a penetrating analysis of the issues in the gubernatorial campaign.

Mr. Cox opposes the election of David S. Ingalls, Republican nominee for Governor, on two main counts. The first is inexperience. The second, which also involves close connection between Mr. Ingalls and Maurice Maschke.

Ingalls' public experience consists of about one hundred days in the General Assembly and a short time as Assistant Secretary of the Navy. Cox logically concludes that this is not a background adequate for a man bearing the responsibilities of the Governor of Ohio in the two critical years ahead.

The heaviest objection which the former Governor brings against Ingalls, however, is the evidence indicating that he may be, if elected, a pawn in the hands of Maurice Maschke, Cleveland's unsavory Republican boss. Mr. Cox points out that "an unsophisticated young man in the Governor's office, honest to the very core, could be sold out a dozen times a day and not know it."

With the courage of a man who has the facts, Cox has built a powerful case that cannot fail to impress the voters of Ohio. It is strengthened by his full appreciation of the honesty and personal charm and willing spirit of Mr. Ingalls.

Pointing to Governor White's wealth of political experience, his proved level-headedness in restoring industrial peace in the Eastern Ohio coal crisis, his rigid honesty and unfailing courage Cox makes a convincing case for the Democratic candidate. He rightly offers as Governor White's greatest claim upon the voters his record of economy. The Governor has had the decision and the wisdom to balance the budget and keep it balanced, saving the taxpayers and preserving the credit of the state.

To be sure, Cox is a Democrat who has led the Democratic party of the nation and remains a leading figure in its councils. But his strong indorsement of Governor White transcends partisanship, is built on facts that speak for themselves. Coming from Mr. Cox, those arguments are worthy of special attention. In the last analysis the facts themselves are Governor White's strongest asset for reelection.

Misplaced Individuals

THE misfit or the subnormal individual has come to be a perplexing problem in today's social structure. In former years, when the pace was not so rapid, and when the pressure of earning a living was not so great, the misfit and the subnormal got along fairly well. Today, however, efficiency has become the keynote, and the individual who can not keep up with his fellows usually is left by the wayside.

But thousands of persons held to be subnormal are merely wrongly placed in the scheme of things. There are jobs they can do well if they can be found for them. The problem, then, is one of adjustment.

Much work along these lines is being done in the public schools in a number of states and in many cities. Because a child fails in one department of school work is not accepted as final proof that he is subnormal and a complete failure. In something else he may succeed notably. Part of every teacher's duty lies in fitting the work to the child as well as fitting the child to the work.

More failures in the world can be traced to a poor start than to absolute incompetency on the part of the individual. In every walk of life there are thousands of men and women who cannot succeed because they are trying to do something for which they are not fitted. Poor unfortunate! They waste their lives either because they will not quit, vainly hoping that if they keep on plodding and plugging they will win, or because they know not which way to turn.

A many a last year's lid covers a head full of sense.

The broad general rule is that the girl who looks most astonished when her Romeo finally proposes is the one who had it figured out a year ago what she would wear at the church.

CHAPTER FORTY-ONE

"WHERE is Everett now?" asked the District Attorney.

"We have him under close observation."

"Then why shouldn't we get him up here right now," proposed Dougherty with an energetic swing of his powerful right arm. "He won't quibble with me. We'll put the facts right up to him and—"

But Dougherty never did finish that sentence. The door had opened and Captain Israel Henry came to attention at the Commissioner's desk.

"Excuse me, sir, but there's is a gentleman and a lady outside who want to speak to you. They say their names are Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Quires."

"Send them right in!" said Thatcher Colt.

As we waited for Captain Henry to lead in these unexpected callers, our thoughts were busy with many expectations. More than twenty-four hours had passed since Edgar Quires received his sister's frightened message. During that interval, Christine Quires had been murdered!

Where had Quires been?

With a firm and confident tread Edgar Quires walked into the office of the Police Commissioner. He was older than the dead girl by at least ten years; he had a large, rugged face, with the reddish complexion of a sportsman out of training—a chow of a man, Colt said. His eyes were blue and his hair and mustache reddish, suggesting a mutation of the voluptuous gold hair of Christine. The brother was wearing an immense brown fur overcoat, and held in his hand a derby hat. I would have said he was a prepossessing and prosperous-looking man.

Beside Edgar Quires stood his wife, a large pale and nervous woman in a pink coat and a fashionable hat.

For a moment, no one spoke. Captain Henry closed the office door and in the silence I could hear the ticking of the watch on the wrist of the Police Commissioner.

It was Edgar Quires who broke the silence.

"Well, Mr. Colt," he said at last, "will you kindly tell me what is wanted?"

I brought two chairs forward and Colt invited them to be seated.

"I may say," added Edgar Quires, "that I do not have the slightest idea of why I am here, why I seem to be in the custody of the police, or why I have been refused any information whatever by the detectives who brought me here and who have acted with the most overbearing complacency toward Mrs. Quires and myself."

Here Mr. Edgar Quires cast an indignant glance around him, including the Commissioner, the District Attorney and myself in the wrathful sweep of his blue eyes. Mrs. Quires looked loftily at the ceiling.

"You don't know what has happened then?" asked Colt with quiet seriousness.

"I have not the faintest idea of what you refer to or what has happened," Edgar Quires vigorously returned.

Colt did not immediately inform him of the facts, for that would have been a cardinal blunder. Instead he turned inquisitor.

"When we reached Grand Central Station two bumptious and offensively conceited detectives accosted us," said Quires.

"Did you receive a telegram from your sister yesterday?"

"I did!"

"Would you mind telling me what that telegram contained?"

"Is my sister in any trouble?"

"Answer my questions—please!"

"I do not understand why you wish to pry into my private and family affairs. However, you are the police and it is to be assumed that you have some good reason. Very well, then. Against my wishes, my sister had been dabbling in the stock market. Her affairs got to be very entangled. She had even borrowed on her future inheritance. She considered that she was in danger of being sold out. She asked me to come to her assistance. I, of course, was willing to do that—although I made up my mind that it would have to be the last time. It was by no means the first time she had appealed to me. I decided to come to New York and go over her affairs with her. Mrs. Quires and I took a train down. On the train I realized that today would be a legal holiday, and that no business could be transacted on the Stock Exchange. Accordingly, we left the train at Schenectady, where my wife's people live, and celebrated the New Year's Eve with them. Today we took the train down to New York. When we reached Grand Central station, two bumptious and offensively conceited detectives accosted us. They insisted on our coming down here.

We were kept waiting downstairs in a room with a man who was manifestly a convict—the dungeon pallor was on his face. Finally we were brought here into your presence. That is a plain and simple statement of the facts, Mr. Colt. Now would you be so good as to explain the situation to me."

It sounded like the truth! And if so, what a disappointment! That telegram, then, did not refer to Christine's fear of her own life, but merely to a mix-up in investments—probably her margin had been over-lapped. Had that fact played any part in her murder? Was she about to denounce Lola—or the mysterious Rock-Ribbed Securities Corporation? Or was Edgar Quires telling something less than the truth? He had given us a simple and straightforward story. Yet how much reliance could we place on it? My mind leaped instantly to the Ruth Snyder and Judd Grey case. Under the administration of Commissioner McCoughlin. At the first inquiries Judd Grey had offered what seemed an iron-clad alibi. He, too, had been in Rochester. If his story was airtight. He was nearly five hundred miles from the scene at the time of the murder—but half of a green stub, the Pullman car ticket, had showed that he lied, and sent him to the chair.

We would have to take this story of Edgar Quires with a grain of salt.

Mixed aspects appearing today indicate better conditions regarding employment, finance, co-operative effort, especially in those government affairs which will occupy the attention of thinking people. The seers advise us to attend to regular routine work at this time.

Under such planetary government, much employment relief and stability are indicated for the near future, and excellent results are promised to those, especially in the clothing, the food, and chemical industries.

Political disturbances are prognosticated for Germany, relative to controversy and disputes over rulership with an aim to gain control.

The evening hours should be devoted to study of a scientific nature; many progressive plans may be brought to light at this hour.

Natives of the "Virgo" sign in Astrology, or those born between August 23rd and September 22nd, have three benefic influences working for their interests at this time.

Persons whose birth date it is, may be subject to an aspect which is unfavorable to health and business affairs at this time, but after November 20th of this year, should be subject to much gain in a general way with success through companies, lands, mines and investments. This benefic away influences all "Libra" persons, for the whole of 1932.

A child born on this day may have a strong tendency toward affections and can gain prominence in public life; his training should include subjects relative to money matters and business administration.

MOVIES

AT THE CLIFTONA

What is believed to be a long step in the direction of talkie perfection has been taken in the picture of "White Zombie," the United Artists picture which will open at the Cliftona theatre Wednesday, for in this production only fifteen per cent of the action is accompanied by dialogue.

From the advent of the talking picture, objection has been taken to the inclusion of too much dialogue, even up to 100 per cent of the picture's length in innumerable instances. The result is a consensus among motion picture students that an absolute minimum of dialogue and a commensurate increase in action must be adopted before improvement comes to the screen.

Of course, "White Zombie" is an unusually action-packed story, one which is told infinitely better in picture form than by the spoken word. This was one of the principal reasons for its selection in the first place, for Edward and Victor Halperin, its producers, have long since felt that the motion picture has been marred by its possibilities since the advent of the talkies by the employment to too much dialogue.

Only where a line of dialogue is absolutely essential does a character speak in "White Zombie," and the result is a revelation. This means that for 85 per cent of the picture's length the story depends entirely upon camera action.

EDSON R. WAITE

SHAWNEE OMAHA

GEORGE H. SEIGLE, EDITOR OF THE MISSOURI VALLEY (IOWA) DAILY TIMES, SAYS:

"The structure of an advertising campaign is a good deal like the structure of a meal. There are certain basic articles of diet—meat, potatoes, bread, butter—the foundation, the first consideration in the planning; then come the side dishes, the salads, the jellies and jams, and desserts. The best meal brings these all together in a perfect proportion, just as the best advertising campaign is a perfect blend of media."

"In advertising, the newspaper is undisputedly the basic article, the meat and potatoes, the first noted factor in the whole project. Perhaps direct mail advertising might be regarded as the salad, and radio advertising as the dessert; a part of the diet, but not the sturdy foundation."

"No far-minded person interested in the best advertising results can hold up any one type of advertising and truthfully claim it alone to be worth while; any more than a dietitian interested in the best possible health can say that only salads or desserts make up the best balanced diet."

"But both the basic articles of food and the basic medium of advertising will carry on further, faster, and with better results than any other single factor or group of competing factors, and must be accorded prominence of proportion if the best results are to follow."

Follow the advice of that famous family physician who gave the world Syrup Pepsin. Stimulate the body's vital organs. Dr. Caldwell's prescription of pure pepsin, active senna, and fresh herbs is a mild stimulant that keeps the system from getting sluggish.

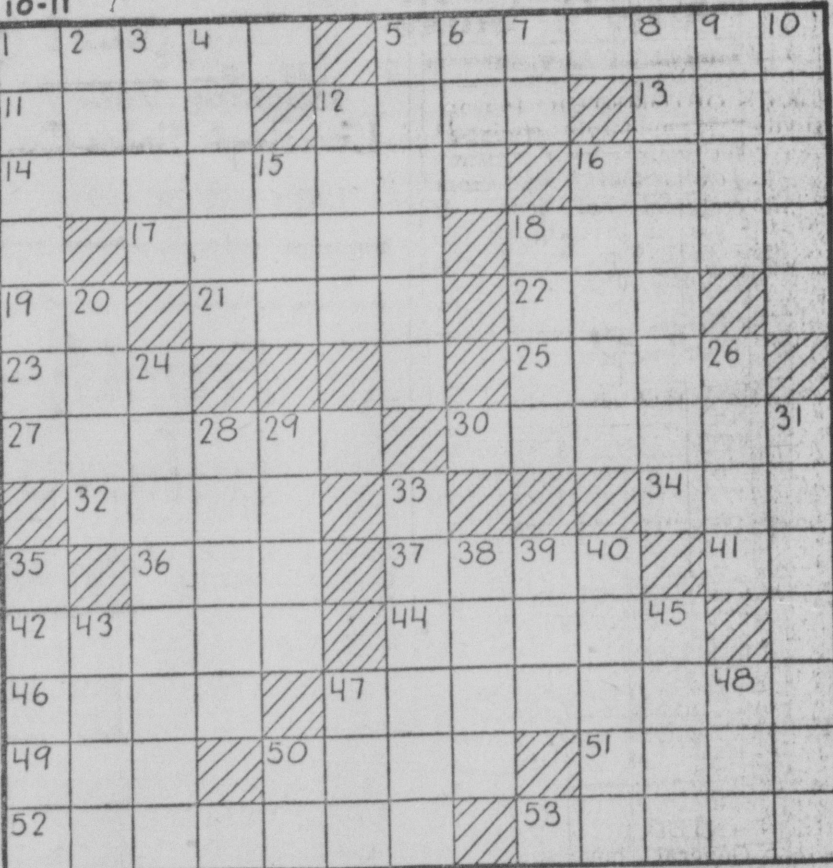

If your youngsters don't do well at school, don't play as hard or eat as well as other children do, begin this evening with Dr. Caldwell's

Syrup Pepsin. This gentle stimulant will soon right things! The bowels will move with better regularity and thoroughness. There won't be so many sick spells or colds. You'll find it just as wonderful for adults, too, in larger spoonfuls!

Get some Syrup Pepsin; protect your household from those bilious days, frequent headaches, and that sluggish state of half-health that means the bowels need stimulating. Keep this preparation in the home to use instead of harsh cathartics that cause chronic constipation if taken too often. You can always get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drug store; they have it all ready in big bottles.

Post Office To Follow One Of 30 Type Plans

WASHINGTON, D. C. Oct. 12.—Circleville's new postoffice will probably be built according to one of thirty type plans which have been prepared by the supervising architect's office of the treasury, it was said at the department today.

In spite of a veritable flood of applications from architects in private practice, for jobs drawing plans for the projects provided for in the Relief Act, the treasury has decided, as an economy measure, to use type plans wherever possible, it was declared.

For projects under $100,000 in cost, 30 type plans have been indexed, and are believed to provide a basis adequate for 90 per cent of the projects listed in the relief bill under such limits of cost, officials said. The Circleville project has a tentative cost limit of $85,500.

PROVIDED IN ACT
Authority for the use of type plans was specifically provided in the Relief Act, it was pointed out at the architect's office.

In cases where none of the 30 type plans can be satisfactorily used, an effort will be made to adapt one of them by means of changes to be made in the supervising architect's office. Failing in this, the department will order a special set of plans drawn, and "outside" architect's will get a chance, it was said.

Use of type plans does not mean that the architectural trend of the city in which the building is to be constructed will be overlooked, officials of the department insisted. A "type" will not be used in any case where it will not adequately meet the requirements of the local postoffice, and harmonize with surrounding buildings, it was said.

Considerations in the choice of a type plan for a given project will include the dimensions and outside of the site, the grade of the land, depth of sewers, and frontage, it was said. Oddly shaped sites will probably require special plans,

Death Mystery

Marian Elliot Jennison, of Milford, N. H., who was found shot to death in a New York hotel room. The fact that a revolver was clutched in the girl's hand pointed to suicide, but the finding of a note addressed to the hotel manager, telling of her being pursued by a man, started an investigation on a murder theory. Miss Jennison is believed to have eloped some time ago from Worcester, Mass.

and will therefore be frowned upon by the department, it was indicated.

"Plans for the extension to the Chillicothe postoffice will have to be individually drawn, to conform to the needs of that office, officials said.

ASHVILLE SCHOOL NEWS

Edna Maupin, a sophomore, has been absent five days because of an infected foot.

Armonde Gray, formerly of Columbus, has entered the sophomore class making their number 42.

MUHLBERG-TWP SCHOOL NEWS

The second regular meeting of the Muhlenberg-twp P. T. A. was held Thursday, Oct. 6. Since the president of the organization, Mrs. Gilbert Crawford, was absent because of illness, Mr. Barton acted as president. Mrs. Christina Hill, Mrs. Gladys Carpenter, Mrs. Nora Hill were appointed on a flower committee. Miss Schellhouse gave a report on the hot lunch for the past week. Plans were made to hold a market in Circleville on Oct. 22. Mrs. Gladys Carpenter was appointed to locate a room in which to hold the market. Mrs. Milton Fullen, Mrs. Gladys Carpenter, Mrs. Cecil Reid, Mrs. Ella McPherson, Mrs. Z. L. Smith, Mrs. Marie Ankrom, Mrs. Harry Melvin and Mrs. Gilbert Crawford were appointed to take charge of the donations in their respective communities for the market. Plans were also made to make a quilt which will be sold on Thanksgiving day. Mrs. Harry Melvin is in charge of this activity.

The P. T. A. voted favorably on a motion to furnish some first aid equipment for the rest room.

A one-act play presented by three sophomore girls, Glendal Dick, Rosalie Hulse and Florence Heath was enjoyed by all present.

The next regular meeting of the P. T. A. will be held the first Thursday in November.

The boys' baseball team of Muhlenberg played the alumni last Friday. The alumni boys won the game. Our boys and girls play Darby on our diamond next Friday. Our seventh and eighth grade boys and girls traveled to Monroe-twp last Friday and lost two games to the junior high students of Monroe.

The class piano lessons are progressing very nicely under the direction of Miss Betts. We have purchased new racks, books, and piano keyboard for use in these classes.

Miss Betts was absent from school on Tuesday.

Because of changing conditions and the possibility of a school term it had been eliminated this year. Consideration taken from the regular work.

We can not imagine what a clean get-away, unless it originates checking out with towels.

ALL I GOT TO SAY IS—I GOT MY OPINION OF A FELLER TALKIN' ABOUT HISSELF!

Post Office To Follow One Of 30 Type Plans

WASHINGTON, D. C. Oct. 12.—

Circleville's new postoffice will probably be built according to one of thirty type plans which have been prepared by the supervising architect's office of the treasury. It was said at the department today.

In spite of a veritable flood of applications from architects in private practice, for jobs drawing plans for the projects provided for in the Relief Act, the treasury has decided, as an economy measure, to use type plans wherever possible, it was declared.

For projects under $100,000 in cost, 30 type plans have been indexed, and are believed to provide a basis adequate for 90 per cent of the projects listed in the relief bill under such limits of cost, officials said. The Circleville project has a tentative cost limit of $85,500.

PROVIDED IN ACT
Authority for the use of type plans was specifically provided in the Relief Act, it was pointed out at the architect's office.

In cases where none of the 30 type plans can be satisfactorily adapted, an effort will be made to use one of them by means of changes to be made in the supervising architect's office. Falling in this, the department will order a special set of plans drawn, and "outside" architect's will get a chance, it was said.

Use of type plans does not mean that the architectural trend of the city in which the building is to be constructed will be overlooked, officials of the department insisted. A "type" will not be used in any case where it will not adequately meet the requirements of the local postoffice, and harmonize with surrounding buildings, it was said.

Considerations in the choice of a type plan for a given project will include the dimensions and outside of the site, the grade of the land, depth of sewers, and frontage, it was said. Oddly-shaped sites will probably require special plans,

Death Mystery

Marian Elliot Jennison, of Milford, N. H., who was found shot to death in a New York hotel room. The fact that a revolver was clutched in the girl's hand pointed to suicide, but the finding of a note addressed to the hotel manager, telling of her being pursued by a man, started an investigation on a murder theory. Miss Jennison is believed to have eloped some time ago from Worcester, Mass.

and will therefore be frowned upon by the department, it was indicated.

Plans for the extension to the Chillicothe postoffice will have to be individually drawn, to conform to the needs of that office, officials said.

MUHLBERG-TWP SCHOOL NEWS

The second regular meeting of the Muhlenberg-twp P. T. A. was held Thursday, Oct. 6. Since the president of the organization, Mrs. Gilbert Crawford, was absent because of illness, Mr. Barton acted as president. Mrs. Christina Hill, Mrs. Gladys Carpenter, Mrs. Nora Hill were appointed on a flower committee. Miss Schellhaue gave a report on the hot lunch for the past week. Plans were made to hold a market in Circleville on Oct. 22. Mrs. Gladys Carpenter was appointed to locate a room in which to hold the market. Mrs. Milton Fuller, Mrs. Gladys Carpenter, Mrs. Cecil Reid, Mrs. Ella McPherson, Mrs. Z. L. Smith, Mrs. Marie Ankrum, Mrs. Harry Melvin and Mrs. Gilbert Crawford were appointed to take charge of the donations in their respective communities for the market. Plans were also made to make a quilt which will be sold on Thanksgiving day. Mrs. Harry Melvin is in charge of this activity.

The P. T. A. voted favorably on a motion to furnish some first aid equipment for the rest room.

A one-act play presented by three sophomore girls, Glendal Dick, Rosalie Hulse and Florence Heath was enjoyed by all present. The next regular meeting of the P. T. A. will be held the first Thursday in November.

The boys' baseball team of Muhlenberg played the alumni last Friday. The alumni boys won the game. Our boys and girls play Darby on our diamond next Friday. Our seventh and eighth grade boys and girls traveled to Monroe-twp last Friday and lost two games to the junior high students of Monroe.

The class piano lessons are progressing very nicely under the direction of Miss Betts. We have purchased new racks, books, and piano keyboard for use in these classes.

NEWS OF HOMES AND HOME FOLKS

VOL. 3. NO. 40. Published by STEVENSON'S Tuesday, October 11, 1932

We can hear some of our readers exclaim, "Oh, yeah? Tell us another fairy story." Whether you believe it or not, this story was related in our store during the P. S. last week.

A customer—prospector for an Estate Heatrola—was asking if the Heatrola would heat the floor at the base of the heater. Mr. D—(and we'll give you his full name, if you are interested enough to know) was standing in the store. We told the customer to ask Mr. D—as he was a user.

And here's his story.
Mr. D—had some work to do in the basement under the room in which his Heatrola was located. While down there, he noticed that it was quite warm and traced the heat to its source. He found that it was coming from the Estate Heatrola on the floor above. The full name of Mr. D will be given to any doubting Thomases.

Mr. W—had been having a lot of trouble with his sleeping equipment. It was necessary for him to have a bed in his living room.

For some time, Mr. W—has been using a common folding bed-davenport. However, being a rather heavy man, he found that this bed was not very comfortable. He brought his troubles to us.

And now, Mr. W—has a spanking new over-stuffed bed davenport with an inner-spring mattress attached. He not only has a fine looking piece of living room furniture, but he tells us that he has a REAL BED.

And speaking of combination bed—and living-room furniture, you should see that STUDIO COUCH that has just arrived. It makes a dandy piece of living-room furniture for lounging in the day-time, and a night bed—either full size or twin—that has real sleeping comfort. The mattresses—two of them—are of the best inner-spring construction. This studio couch will add beauty and charm to your living room, and will afford much comfort as a piece to sit and rest upon. If you're living in cramped quarters, don't fail to see it.

Bill—showed up at the Elks Club with a black eye. He was asked how he came to have the "shiner." He replied that he had kissed a bride after the ceremony. "But," said a friend, "isn't that the usual custom?" "Sure," answered Bill, "but this was three years after."

Since this is 'Heatrola weather,' we can't miss an opportunity to keep calling our genuine Heatrolas to your attention. Our men were busy today (Tuesday) making delivery of orders of these famous heaters up in Scioto-twp. One of these buyers claimed to have investigated a number of makes but found the Heatrola (made by Estate and sold by us) was built to properly heat the home, even including the space around the base of the Heatrola.

In spite of predictions of calamity howlers, the Pumpkin Show was a howling success so far as exhibits, parades, and Saturday crowds were concerned. Our store did very well, and we hope to reap further benefits from the publicity at later dates.

- Famous sealed-in-steel Monitor Top mechanism... requiring no attention, not even oiling.
- All-steel cabinet built to last a lifetime... with sliding shelves and exclusive easy-cleaning features.
- The lowest COST refrigerator you can own... backed by an unequalled 4-Year Service Plan.

YOU will be money ahead next summer if you install a General Electric in your kitchen now. It's a thrifty investment the year 'round and will save many dollars during the coming fall and winter months, when prices of perishable foods are higher.

The G-E Monitor Top is universally recognized as the standard of refrigeration excellence. Today, one out of three homes with modern refrigeration has a G-E Monitor Top. It is built to last a lifetime and provides the lowest-cost refrigeration you can own. The mechanism is entirely sealed in walls of steel... safe from neglect or abuse; and requires no attention, not even oiling. Gleaming white cabinets are all steel, with one-piece porcelain interior, sliding shelves and exclusive easy-cleaning features.

In addition to the famous Monitor Top refrigerator, General Electric builds the conventional type G-E JUNIOR... for those to whom original low-price is most important today. Its attractive price makes G-E Jr. the outstanding value in the conventional type field.

"Nature in the Raw is seldom MILD"

RIDE 'EM, COWBOY
"Nature in the Raw"—as expressed in the famous rodeo cry; inspired by the picture in the July issue of the National Geographic Magazine taken at the Ski Hi Stampede, Monte Vista, Colorado. "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes.

No raw tobaccos in Luckies —that's why they're so mild

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.
